

Rare Silk Khotan Carpet no. j4802

Description

This is a beautiful antique handwoven silk Khotan rug from Xinjiang, Western China, measuring approximately 1'9" × 1'10". Woven with a silky, lustrous pile on a cotton foundation, this small-format piece features a classic Khotanese central floral medallion, surrounded by soft pastel motifs in pink, gold, navy, and red. The border showcases traditional geometric Khotan patterns, adding depth and visual rhythm to the design. Unlike modern imitations, this rug exhibits the authentic craftsmanship of mid-19th-century Xinjiang weaving, with fine knotting and a distinctive artistic style.

Details
Origin: Khotan (Hotan), Xinjiang, Western China
Age: late-19th century (c. 1870s–1890s)
Material: Silk pile, cotton foundation
Size: 1'9" × 1'10"
Design: Central lotus medallion, floral and geometric borders
Colors: Red, pink, navy, gold, ivory
Construction: Hand-knotted Condition: Good vintage condition; light signs of age consistent with handmade silk rugs
Why You'll Love It Fine collectible from an iconic weaving region Soft silky texture with beautiful sheen Perfect accent piece for a dresser, nightstand, entryway, or as a wall-hanging textile High-quality example of traditional Khotan artistry

rug no.	j4802
size	1' 9" X 1' 10"
rug type	Khotan,Silk
size / category	Square,Yastiks

price

$2500.00

Rare Silk Khotan Carpet no. j4802

