

Persian Tabriz Medallion Scalloped Oval Rondel Rug no. 10875

Description

This exceptional Persian Tabriz rug features a rare and highly sought-after scalloped medallion silhouette, showcasing the masterful curvilinear artistry for which Tabriz is celebrated. Hand-knotted in Iran during the late 19th century, the rug displays an intricate arrangement of floral palmettes, scrolling vines, and layered petals, all radiating from an ornate circular central medallion. The palette blends soft ivory, warm gold, deep navy, and rich burgundy, creating a sophisticated yet inviting aesthetic. The unusually shaped border—composed of repeating lobed motifs—elevates this rug from traditional to sculptural, making it a true statement piece suitable for refined interiors. Crafted from high-quality wool on a cotton foundation, the rug retains a supple handle and beautifully aged character. Its organic outline allows it to function not only as a floor covering but as decorative art within a room.
